

The Ministry Coach

“Developing Strong Christian Ministry Leaders”

Dear Co-Laborer in Christian Ministry:

We are planning for the next Minister's Forum to take place during the October 2009 to April 2010 timeframe. You are invited to a session that will change your ministry forever. The Forum series are designed to support, strengthen, and sustain the Christian ministry.

The Ministry Coach invites you to sign up now so that we will have your information on file. Please be assured that, under no circumstances, will we sell or otherwise distribute your information to any individual or organization. You will be notified of specific information once we have your contact information.

If you are a minister of the Gospel and have been for zero to ten years, you are invited to an experience designed especially for you. This Forum will not only teach you, the new minister, some reliable techniques to enhance your ministry, but will provide associate ministers an opportunity to share aspects of the vocation that are essential to our success in ministry.

The Forum has been a meeting of New and Associate Ministers who have been called to the preaching ministry and includes topics like

- Beginning the Work with the Correct Tools
- Preaching with Power from the Start
- Creating a Dynamic Worship Leader
- Supporting a Busy Senior Pastor
- Lord!...What about those Church People!

The upcoming Forum will be expanded to address topics of interest by other ministry leaders as well. Each attendee will receive a toolbox for success in the preaching, worship ministry. In today's increasingly cynical world, Christian ministers must be sure of their call, their critical sacred priorities, and their strengths. The forum begins this dialogue facilitated by pastoral leaders who know the challenges facing the Christian minister.

If your desire is to become a rich and famous television preacher as a result of this Forum, then it is not for you. But if you want to walk away with strategies for improving your ministry, then send us your information as requested below.
